

Fall 2007 Newsletter

Online Groups Fuel Recovery and Reform

Thanks to the power of the Internet to link people and information, United Policyholders' reach extends throughout the United States. Our website is making tips and resources available in all regions, and the Internet is fueling the success of our core action plan for solving insurance problems:

- Knowledge is power
- Insurers settle with informed "squeaky wheels"
- Networking is invaluable

More and more policyholders are uniting by forming and joining moderated Yahoo Groups. These groups are easy to use, free and relatively secure. Members communicate mostly via emails to solve rebuilding problems and help each other face the David versus Goliath challenge of getting a fair settlement on a large loss claim. Group members exchange info on local merchant discounts, contractors, permit issues, etc. UP...

The information presented in this publication is for general informational purposes and is not a substitute for legal advice. If you have a specific legal issue or problem, United Policyholders recommends that you consult with an attorney. Guidance on hiring professional help can be found in the "Find Help" section of www.uphelp.org. United Policyholders does not sell insurance or certify, endorse or warrant any of the insurance products, vendors, or professionals identified on our website.

DOWNLOAD THE PDF

The information presented in this publication is for general informational purposes and is not a substitute for legal advice. If you have a specific legal issue or problem, United Policyholders recommends that you consult with an attorney. Guidance on hiring professional help can be found in the "Find Help" section of www.uphelp.org. United Policyholders does not sell insurance or certify, endorse or warrant any of the insurance products, vendors, or professionals identified on our website.

Source: <https://uphelp.org/fall-2007-newsletter/> Date: January 31, 2025