

Ho'ōla iā Mauiakama Disaster Long Term Recovery Group launched to support Maui's recovery post-wildfire

MauiNOW

A coalition of dedicated community leaders has announced the formation of the Ho'ōla iā Mauiakama Disaster Long Term Recovery Group, aimed at delivering ongoing recovery assistance to residents impacted by the August 2023 wildfire disaster.

Established with support from the Hawai'i Community Foundation, Maui United Way, and the Center for Disaster Philanthropy, this community-driven initiative is designed to help survivors effectively navigate the challenges of rebuilding their homes and lives.

The Ho'ōla iā Mauiakama Long Term Recovery Group's mission is to offer comprehensive and compassionate support for those affected by the wildfires. Many survivors need assistance and have questions on how to proceed with rebuilding, who they can go to for help, and where to find resources. Recovery group programs provide this essential support, ensuring that individuals can access the resources and guidance they need to rebuild their homes and lives.

and professionals navigate post-disaster construction requirements in Maui, ultimately reducing uncertainty and stress. Visit maulongtermrecovery.org/build.

Access to Volunteer Teams: LTRG works with organizations such as Samaritan's Purse, Mennonite Disaster Service, and Presbyterian Disaster Assistance to offer free architectural plans and volunteer labor to assist residents in their rebuilding efforts.

Resource Roundtable: The Resources Roundtable brings together funders to evaluate individual cases of unmet needs, ensuring critical assistance is provided to those facing gaps in their recovery plans.

The public is also encouraged to get involved by volunteering their time or donating much needed items. Donations can be made through the Council for Native Hawaiian Advancement, and LTRG will ensure these resources reach those most in need. To make a donation, visit www.maulongtermrecovery.org/donate.

Kaipo Kekona, chair of LTRG, shared, "Our LTRG volunteer board and committee members have worked tirelessly to create a system that will help Maui residents recover and rebuild. We invite the community to join our efforts and help us build a stronger, more resilient Maui."
