

Rebuilding Workshop & Resource Fair in Oakmont

The Kenwood Press

On Saturday, July 28, 10 a.m. to 2 p.m., Sonoma County Supervisor Susan Gorin is hosting a Housing and Rebuilding Fair at Oakmont's Berger Center. This event is cosponsored by the County of Sonoma and the City of Santa Rosa.

This event is intended for fire survivors or residents to get information and resources to help navigate through the rebuild journey. At this 'expo' style event attendees will have the opportunity to talk one on one with agencies and organizations providing resources on permitting, landscaping and fire safe plant choices, energy incentives, insurance, and emergency preparedness.

Participating organizations include Permit Sonoma, City of Santa Rosa Permitting, United Policyholders, Sonoma Clean Power, Sonoma County Office of Energy and Sustainability, Sonoma Marin Water Saving Partnership, Sonoma Clean Power, California HOPE Crisis Counselors and more.

There will be a few short panels throughout the day. RSVP on Facebook to receive updates and have access to the panel schedule, or e-mail Field Rep Arielle Kubu-Jones at arielle.kubu-jones@sonoma.county.org.

For more information contact Supervisor Gorin's office at 565-2241 or First District Field Rep Arielle Kubu-Jones at arielle.kubu-jones@sonoma.county.org.
