Purpose:
When a homeowner has property damage covered under their homeowners insurance policy, the insurance company investigates the loss, valuates the damage, and then issues an Actual Cash Value (ACV) payment. The ACV payment is replacement cost less depreciation. After the repairs are fully completed, the insurance company releases the withheld depreciation to the insured to fulfill their obligation to cover the replacement cost as defined in the policy. Besides applying depreciation to the loss of value due wear and tear, deterioration, and obsolescence to physical material items, some insurance companies are applying depreciation to the labor costs associated with the repair process.

The practice of depreciating labor costs on insurance payments for property damage claims floats a significant part of the labor repair costs to the consumer and their repair contractor, unfairly shifting a burden to the consumer during the repair process and likely against the principle of indemnity. The Commissioner has seen a steady rise of policy forms that are writing this practice into their definition of Actual Cash Value. The Commissioner implemented rulemaking to prohibit the depreciation of labor on property claims.
